

British Mystery Father Brown - Weeknights at 10pm

For Immediate Release

PROVO, UT., (December 13, 2017) – On January 1st KBYUTV-Eleven will begin airing the critically acclaimed British drama Father Brown weeknights at 10pm. The murder mystery series follows the adventures of Father Brown, a crime-solving Roman Catholic Priest in the 1950s and is loosely based on short stories of the same title written by G. K. Chesterton. Brown is uniquely able to assist a fumbling local police inspector on account of his keen understanding of human nature and insistent desire to know truth.

Father Brown will fill a programming slot previously set aside for Perry Mason. Unfortunately, on December 31st the courtroom drama Perry Mason will end its 20 year streak of airing on Eleven, as programming director Sandy Ewing explains “we were simply unable to renew our contract for the series.”

Perry Mason enthusiasts are invited to join Eleven at 9pm on New Year’s Eve for a final 6 hour, 9 episode marathon of the show.
